Χάος Symphony No.1

Alessio Miraglia

According to myth, χάος (kháos) represents the initial and incomplete form of the world. It is believed to be the primary source of all existence and the state in which the entire universe existed in its earliest stage. Khaos exists prior to Order (Cosmos), serving as the primordial "void" from which all things emerged, and to which all things will eventually return. This cyclic process continues endlessly, with each new cycle bringing about a fresh beginning.

*"To Stefania Cucca,
Thank you for the inspiration that led me to write the music for this symphony."*
